DEFENDANTS' ANSWER TO FIRST AMENDED COMPLAINT AND AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

Defendants Teachers Insurance and Annuity Association of America (identified in the complaint as “Teachers Insurance and Annuity Association of America - College Retirement Equities Fund (TIAA-CREF)”) (“TIAA”), College Retirement Equities Fund (identified in the complaint as “College Retirement and Equities Fund”) (“CREF”), TIAA-CREF Investment Management, LLC, Teachers Advisors, Inc., and TIAA-CREF Individual and Institutional Services, LLC (collectively, “Defendants”) submit their answer and affirmative defenses to Plaintiff Norman Walker’s First Amended Complaint (ECF No. 63) (“Complaint”).

Unless specifically admitted, Defendants deny each and every averment in the Complaint. To the extent that Plaintiff has included headings or impertinent material that is inappropriate under Rule 8 or 12(f) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, no response is necessary and such material should be struck. To the extent any headings or impertinent material are deemed to require a response, Defendants deny them. Any headings from the Complaint that are reproduced here are reproduced for convenience of reading only. In light of the Court's April 9, 2010 order (ECF No. 21) granting Defendant's motion to dismiss the state-law claims in the original complaint, the Court's August 4, 2010 order upholding that dismissal upon reconsideration (ECF No. 34), and the Court January 19, 2011 text order stating that "Plaintiff's state law claims were dismissed without prejudice, Doc. 34, and are not revived with the filing of the First Amended Complaint," (ECF No. 62), nothing in this Answer means that Defendants agree that the state-law claims in the Complaint (Counts III and IV) are still at issue in this case. To the contrary, since those claims have been dismissed, they should not be in the Complaint and Defendants are not required to respond to them.

ANSWER

Nature of Action

1. The allegations in paragraph 1 contain legal conclusions and characterizations to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Defendants deny the allegations in paragraph 1.

2. Defendants admit that the Court has subject matter jurisdiction over this action. Defendants deny the remaining allegations in paragraph 2.

3. Defendants admit that venue is proper in this District. Defendants deny the remaining allegations in paragraph 3.

4. Defendants lack knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief about the truth of the allegations in the first sentence of paragraph 4, and on that basis deny them. Defendants admit that Walker was a CREF accountholder through the St. Michael's College

Retirement Plan. The allegations in the third sentence of paragraph 4 contain legal conclusions and characterizations to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Defendants deny the allegations in the third sentence of paragraph 4. Defendants deny the remaining allegations in paragraph 4.

5. The allegations in the first two sentences of paragraph 5 set forth legal conclusions that do not require a response. To the extent a response is required, Defendants deny the allegations in the first two sentences of paragraph 5. In response to the allegations in the third sentence of paragraph 5, Defendants refer to the <http://www.tiaa-cref.org> website for its contents. Defendants deny the remaining allegations in paragraph 5.

6. The allegations in paragraph 6 set forth legal conclusions that do not require a response. To the extent a response is required, Defendants deny the allegations in paragraph 6.

7. Defendants admit that CREF is a nonprofit membership corporation established in New York State. Defendants admit that CREF offers eight variable annuity Accounts, as described in its prospectuses. Defendants deny the remaining allegations in paragraph 7.

8. Defendants admit that Defendant TIAA-CREF Investment Management, LLC is a Delaware limited liability company that serves as investment advisor to certain CREF variable annuity Accounts. Defendants admit that Defendant Teachers Advisors, Inc. is a Delaware corporation that advises investment companies other than CREF. Defendants deny the remaining allegations in paragraph 8.

9. Defendants admit that Defendant TIAA-CREF Individual & Institutional Services, LLC is a Delaware limited liability company that holds gain and loss accounts reflecting the difference between the market value of a CREF annuity between the effective date of a customer's transfer or withdrawal request and the date that units in the annuity are sold to fund the payment. Defendants deny the remaining allegations in paragraph 9, and specifically deny that they or “TIAA-CREF” “use” customer funds or any gains or losses on those funds “after a redemption or transfer request is received.”

10. Defendants admit that the Retirement Plan for Employees of St. Michael’s College (“St. Michael’s Plan”) is a retirement plan governed by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended (“ERISA”). Defendants lack knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief about the truth of the remaining allegations in paragraph 10, and on that basis deny them.

11. Defendants admit that St. Michael’s Plan participants began holding their plan investments in TIAA or CREF products no later than 1995. Defendants lack knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief about the truth of the remaining allegations in paragraph 11, and on that basis deny them.

12. Defendants admit that St. Michael’s College purported to instruct TIAA to transfer the accounts of St. Michael’s Plan participants to Milliman, Inc. Defendants lack knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief about the truth of the remaining allegations in paragraph 12, and on that basis deny them.

13. Defendants admit that TIAA informed St. Michael’s College that all TIAA or CREF accounts held by participants in the St. Michael’s Plan were based on individual certificates and, as such, required individual authorizations to withdraw from or transfer the accounts. Defendants lack knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief about the truth of the remaining allegations in paragraph 13, and on that basis deny them.

14. Defendants lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief about the truth of the allegations in paragraph 14, and on that basis deny them.

15. Defendants admit that TIAA received paperwork reflecting the authorizations by individual participants of the St. Michael's Plan for the transfer of their TIAA or CREF accounts. Defendants lack knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief about the truth of the remaining allegations in paragraph 15, and on that basis deny them.

16. Defendants admit that the agreed-upon effective date of transfer to Milliman, Inc. for the TIAA or CREF accounts in the St. Michael's College Plan would be the date that TIAA received all necessary transfer forms for the accounts of the participants in the St. Michael's College Plan. Defendants admit that TIAA received all necessary forms no later than May 1, 2007, making that the agreed-upon effective date of the transfers. Defendants deny the remaining allegations in paragraph 16, and specifically deny that there was ever any agreement to make transfer payments to Milliman on May 1, 2007, as opposed to an agreement that May 1, 2007 would be the effective date of the transfers for account-valuation purposes.

17. Defendants admit that on May 7, 2007, a check reflecting the value of Plaintiff's CREF accounts as of May 1, 2007, the agreed-upon effective date of the transfer, was sent by overnight mail to Milliman, Inc. Defendants deny the remaining allegations in paragraph 17.

18. Defendants lack knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief about the truth of the allegations in the first sentence of paragraph 18 and on that basis deny them. Defendants admit that on May 7, 2007, a check reflecting the value of Plaintiff's CREF accounts as of May 1, 2007, the agreed-upon effective date of the transfer, was sent by overnight mail to Milliman, Inc. Defendants deny the remaining allegations in paragraph 18.

19. Defendants admit that on May 7, 2007, a check reflecting the value of Plaintiff's CREF accounts as of May 1, 2007, the agreed-upon effective date of the transfer, was sent by overnight mail to Milliman, Inc. Defendants deny the remaining allegations in paragraph 19.

20. The allegations in the first sentence of paragraph 20 set forth legal conclusions that do not require a response. To the extent a response is required, Defendants deny the allegations in the first sentence of paragraph 20. Defendants lack knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief about the truth of the allegations in the second sentence of paragraph 20, and on that basis deny them.

21. Defendants admit that the “How to Transfer and Withdraw Your Money” portion of the May 1, 2006 CREF Prospectus states that “[t]ransfers and cash withdrawals are effective at the end of the business day we receive your request and all required documentation. You can also choose to have transfers and withdrawals take effect at the end of any future business day.” (See p. 44.) Defendants state that the “Determining the Value of Your Account – Accumulation Units” portion of the May 1, 2006 CREF Prospectus states that “[t]o determine accumulation unit values for transfers and cash withdrawals, we use the unit values calculated at the end of the business day on which we receive your completed request and required documents.” (See p. 43.) The allegations in the second sentence of paragraph 21 set forth legal conclusions that do not require a response. To the extent a response is required, Defendants deny the allegations in the second sentence of paragraph 21. Defendants deny the remaining allegations in paragraph 21.

22. Defendants admit that TIAA sent Plaintiff a letter dated September 28, 2007 that stated that TIAA’s handling of Plaintiff’s transfer request was consistent with the procedures for such requests set forth in the CREF Prospectus. Defendants deny the remaining allegations in paragraph 22.

CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

23. Defendants admit that Plaintiff purports to bring this action as a class action on behalf of the proposed class identified in paragraph 23. Defendants deny that this action can be maintained as a class action.

24. Defendants admit that Plaintiff purports to bring this action as a class action on behalf of the proposed subclass identified in paragraph 24. Defendants deny that this action can be maintained as a class action. The remaining allegations in paragraph 24 contain legal conclusions and characterizations to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Defendants deny the remaining allegations in paragraph 24.

25. The allegations in paragraph 25 contain legal conclusions and characterizations to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Defendants deny the allegations in paragraph 25.

26. The allegations in paragraph 26 contain legal conclusions and characterizations to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Defendants deny the allegations in paragraph 26.

27. Defendants deny the allegations in Paragraph 27. Defendants deny that this action can be maintained as a class action.

28. Defendants deny the allegations in Paragraph 28. Defendants deny that this action can be maintained as a class action.

29. Defendants deny the allegations in Paragraph 29, including its subparts. Defendants deny that this action can be maintained as a class action.

30. Defendants admit that Plaintiff authorized the transfer to Milliman, Inc. of the amounts in his CREF accounts held through the St. Michael's Plan. Defendants admit that the value of Plaintiff's CREF accounts as of May 1, 2007, the effective date of the transfer, was sent to Milliman in May 7, 2007. The allegations in the first, second, and fourth sentences in paragraph 30 contain legal conclusions and characterizations to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Defendants deny the allegations in the first, second, and fourth sentences in paragraph 30. Defendants deny the remaining allegations in Paragraph 30. Defendants deny that this action can be maintained as a class action.
